

HAWAII THE TOPIC
IN WASHINGTON.HOUSE DISCUSSES THE POLICY PURSUED.

Mr. Johnson of Indiana Does Not Like the Position Assumed By the Administration—Controversy Becomes Warm—Peckham Nomination Goes Over.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Pursuant to the agreement arrived at just before adjournment Saturday, the house met yesterday at 11 o'clock, and in the absence of the chaplain prayer was offered by Mr. Everett (dem.) of Massachusetts. Mr. Morse (rep.) of Massachusetts, presented a memorial from the Massachusetts legislature protesting against the passage of certain schedules in the Wilson tariff bill as destructive and fatal to the industries of Massachusetts.

The house then took up the consideration of the Hawaiian resolution, and Mr. Johnson (rep.) of Indiana argued against the position of the administration.

Mr. Johnson yielded two minutes to Mr. Morse (rep.) of Massachusetts, who bitterly attacked the policy of the administration in the Hawaiian matter. Mr. Outhwaite (dem.) of Ohio took exception to these words and demanded that they be taken down and that the gentleman be called to order.

After a little debate the words were taken down and read at the desk, when Mr. Morse arose to explain his remarks, but the speaker called him to order.

The speaker, after weighing the words, gave his opinion that the language was not parliamentary; that no member had a right to speak of any member of the house or senate as being controlled by their master, the President.

On motion of Mr. Burrows (rep.) of Michigan, Mr. Morse was allowed to explain—Mr. Outhwaite alone voting an emphatic "No." Mr. Morse thereupon withdrew the objectionable words, and all was peace and harmony in the house again. But the incident had consumed all of Mr. Morse's time and Mr. Johnson refused to yield further and proceeded with his speech.

Mr. Patterson (dem. Tenn.) arraigned the precipitancy which he said had marked the republican treatment of the Hawaiian question.

Mr. Wheeler (dem. Ala.) upheld the administration's policy of non-annexation.

Mr. Boutelle (rep. Maine) defended the action of Minister Stevens in an impassioned speech, and at the close he was loudly applauded, and when he took his seat the republican members crowded up to congratulate him.

Mr. Black (dem. Ill.) took the opposite end of the argument and delivered a speech scintillating with wit. He did not attack the course of Minister Stevens, nor did he defend the actions of Minister Willis, but replied to some assertions made in Mr. Boutelle's resolutions reflecting on the President, among them the assertion that the President had invaded the rights and privileges of the house by withholding the Hawaiian correspondence from it. He said the native race was fast disappearing, and Mr. Black appeared to the country to "bury the little fragment of a race in its remaining land and then let the plow of civilization go over their remains."

Mr. Van Voorhis (rep., N. Y.) appealed for annexation for the islands.

Mr. Griffin (dem. Mich.) said that he cordially and enthusiastically indorsed the administration's policy.

At the night session Mr. Post (rep., Ill.) attacked the course of the administration in the matter.

Mr. Lacey (rep., Iowa) was recognized. His remarks were characterized by several sharp colloquies with Mr. McCrery.

Mr. Hall (dem., Minn.) and Mr. Stallings (dem., Ala.) spoke against the provisional government.

IN THE SENATE

The Senators Engage in a Colloquy Over the Federal Elections Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The house bill to repeal the federal election laws was again (at 1 p. m.) taken up in the senate yesterday and Mr. Chandler (rep., N. H.) addressed the senate in opposition to it. In the course of his remarks Mr. Chandler engaged in a colloquy with Mr. Palmer (dem., Ill.) and asked him if he was in favor of abandoning the fifteenth amendment to the constitution.

"I would no more abandon the fifteenth amendment," Mr. Palmer declared emphatically, "than I would abandon the declaration of independence. I regard them as being essential parts of each other."

Mr. Palmer (dem., Ill.) supported the bill as an act of justice to the Hawaiian natives.

Mr. Frye (rep., Maine) spoke of the Tammany frauds against the election laws in New York state, and finally the day's debate closed with the declaration by Mr. Palmer that the election law was a miserable abortion. The bill went over till to-day, and the senate, after a short executive session, adjourned.

The vote on the elections bill will be taken this afternoon.

Hawaiian Hearing Closed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The senate committee on foreign relations investigating Hawaiian affairs yesterday heard the testimony of William E.

Simpson, who is said by the committee to be the last witness on the list. His testimony was devoted almost entirely to a discussion of the value of the islands from a commercial point of view. Mr. Simpson proved to be a strong annexationist.

A member of the subcommittee is authority for the statement that the subcommittee will probably have its report ready for the full committee by the 15th of the month.

The report will doubtless be adopted by the full committee and will then, accompanied by the printed testimony, be laid before the senate. A general debate, it is believed, will follow. The statement is made by a member of the committee, but not one of those conducting this inquiry, that it looked as if ex-Minister Stevens would be criticised, not so much for what he did, as the way it was done.

To Take Up Jenkins Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Mr. McGinn (dem., Ill.) tried to secure unanimous consent yesterday for the consideration of a resolution to investigate the action of Judge Jenkins in the Union Pacific railroad case, but objection was made by Mr. Outhwaite and it went to the judiciary committee. Mr. McGinn says he will endeavor to have that committee report back the resolution at once. There is little doubt of a favorable report on it, with a provision that a subcommittee of the judiciary committee be authorized to prosecute the investigation and to send for persons and papers.

Delay in the New Bond Issue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—It is stated at the treasury department that it is probable the bonds of the new issue will not be ready for delivery before Feb. 20. The reason assigned is that the bidders want small denominations of bonds, which, of course, will take longer to print and require much more time to sign. In the meantime the various subtreasuries will receive the money for the bonds and issue receipts for the same. The money, however, will not appear in the treasury cash until the bonds are delivered to the buyers.

Our Paper Currency.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The paper currency outstanding Feb. 1 was $1,167,040,231, less $1,000,000 to be destroyed by fire. This shows an increase of $6,544,166 during the month. Outstanding Jan. 31 were: One dollar notes, $243,079,069; 2 notes, $29,325,017; 5 notes, $243,097,679; 10 notes, $301,351,746; 20 notes, $238,380,620; 50 notes, $44,361,265; 100 notes, $34,482,170; $500 notes, $19,208,000; $1,000 notes, $80,496,000; $5,000 notes, $14,390,000; $10,000 notes, $73,070,000.

Peckham Nomination Goes Over.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The senate committee on judiciary yesterday took no action on the case of Wheeler H. Peckham, nominated to be associate justice of the Supreme court, but permitted it to go over until a special meeting this morning at 10:30.

NEARLY HAD A FIGHT.

Lawyers in the Coughlin Trial Have a Disagreement.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Just at the adjournment of court in the Coughlin trial yesterday Assistant State's Attorney Bottom and Daniel Donahoe, of counsel for the defense, became involved in a violent dispute, which threatened at one time to lead to blows. Judge Tuthill fined Attorney Donahoe of the defense $50, but subsequently after an apology from the lawyer remitted the fine.

The defense began the day's proceedings with a part of its promised attack on the evidence given by Frank Bardeen, who testified that on the night of May 4 he saw Dan Coughlin walking on the lake shore at Edgewater beside the wagon containing the mysterious box or trunk. In his testimony Mr. Bardeen stated, among other things, that he saw and spoke with Walter Eaton, who was engineer in charge of the Edgewater electric light station on the night of May 4 before seeing Coughlin. Eaton denied that he spoke to or saw Bardeen on that night, thus flatly contradicting very important testimony for the state. Cross-examination weakened his testimony, however, and the effect was not heavy, as his memory was blank on many important questions put to him.

Then one of the men who has been named as one of the Cronin murder conspirators—Joseph McKenna—was called. He denied absolutely that he was at the residence of Mrs. Foy at the time that lady swore he was there with the rest of the conspirators, and declared he had never visited the house in their company. Cross-examination did not affect his story much, and his testimony was quite as positive as Mrs. Foy's, and contradicted her on every point on which she testified.

HALF A MILLION IN ASHES.

Disastrous Fire at Savannah—Three Business Houses Burned.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 6.—A disastrous fire started yesterday at 10 o'clock in the guano warehouse of Wilcox, Gibbs & Co., and from there spread to the Savannah Grocery company's six-story brick building, which was totally consumed. The store of the Savannah Grocery company was worth $180,000. It was insured for $130,000. The fire next extended to M. Ferst's wholesale grocery, three stories high. The stock is worth $150,000; insurance, $125,000. The building belongs to Wilcox, Gibbs & Co. and is valued at $100,000; insurance, $68,000. The guano warehouse is valued at $10,000. The fire proves to be the largest since the great conflagration of April,

MOB OF LYNCHERS
LED BY A WOMAN.EFFORT TO HANG AN INDIANA CRIMINAL.

The Mob Has a Rope Around His Neck Three Times But He is Saved—Running Battle Kept Up at the Court Room Door in Lebanon Indiana.

LEBANON, Ind., Feb. 6.—A mob of several hundred men and women, led by a woman half demented by rage, fought the jail officials yesterday in an effort to lynch the negro, Frank Hall. Three times they had the rope around his neck and were dragging him along to his death. Three times the rope was cut and by a mighty effort of the officials at the end the prisoner was saved for the law. Mrs. Mary Ackers, whom Hall had assaulted, handed the rope to the crowd and fanned its frenzy.

When Mrs. Ackers told her story the neighborhood was at once aroused and following the tracks left in the snow the searching party was led to the home of Hall. He was immediately arrested and brought to this city and lodged in jail. In the morning a mob was being organized to take him from the jail, but the officers heard of it and spirited him away to Indianapolis. He was brought back here for a preliminary hearing.

As soon as it became known that he was in town angry crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the jail. About 10 o'clock a rush was made for the prisoner, but the mob lacked organization and was repulsed by the sheriff and posse. Prosecutor Dutch made a speech to the people, begging them to disperse and allow the law to take its course, but they were there for blood, and nothing else would pacify them. At 12 o'clock Mrs. Ackers was taken to the jail and identified Hall. At this time a mass meeting was called to be held in the south part of the city, and while the ringleaders were away an attempt was made to take Hall to the court house, where he had agreed to plead guilty. He had scarcely stepped outside the door when the mob, which had heard of the project, rushed up the broad stone steps and were upon him.

Mrs. Ackers at the request of her sister took the rope which had been given her and rushing down the stairs gave it to the mob, urging summary vengeance. Mrs. Hattie Taylor, half demented, rushed through the crowd, which now numbered 700, and assisted by a few of the bolder ones, placed the rope around the cowering negro's neck. With a yell the crowd took hold of the rope and dragged him into the courthouse yard. Here the sheriff's posse succeeded in again getting possession of the prisoner. Pistols and knives were drawn and a hand to hand fight took place between the officers and the mob. Again Mrs. Taylor dashed forward with another noose ready and dexterously slipped it about Hall's neck. The crowd pulled it taut, but again an officer's knife snapped the rope. For a third time this effort was made with the same result.

Charles Neal, son of Judge Neal, then tried to stem the tide by shouting out that he would stand personally responsible for the actions of the court. At this stage several business men sided in with the sheriff and by main force succeeded in getting the negro up the steps and into the court with drawn revolvers.

The prisoner was placed in the prisoners' box guarded by twenty deputies and the court rapped for order, at the same time telling the sheriff to deputize a thousand men if necessary to preserve the peace. In a trembling voice the prisoner admitted his guilt and when asked if he had any reason to offer why judgment should not be passed on him replied in the negative. He was then sentenced to twenty-one years in the penitentiary.

Hall was placed in the judge's private room and kept there until 5 o'clock. In the meantime a posse of 200 citizens had been sworn in and a rush was made for the depot, where they succeeded in placing their prisoner aboard the train. There was here another hand-to-hand fight with the mob. The posse escorted the prisoner as far as Indianapolis for fear of an attack being made on the train.

HONOR FOR BENHAM.

Congressional Resolution of Thanks Would Extend His Term of Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Admiral Benham's future may be much affected by the recent incident in Rio harbor and the resolutions introduced by Representative Money complimenting the admiral. The thanks of congress is an honor very highly prized in military and naval circles and it carries with it not only dignity and honor, but also several important official advantages. One of these is that the time of an officer's retirement is extended.

In the case of Admiral Benham he will be retired in April next, but should congress give him a resolution of thanks his period of active service would be extended ten years. Few officers in the naval service have enjoyed the honor. It would also carry the pay of an officer on the active list, which is considerably above the pay of the retired rank.

NIEMAN AND WALL
IN THE ROSTER SUITBOTH THOSE LEADING DEMO-CRATIC LIGHTS SUMMONED

They Are Suspected of Knowing More About the $70,000 Rottenness Than They Have Ever Told—Was the Journal to be a Beneficiary When the Fat Was Divided.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—Editor Nieman of the Journal, Chairman Wall of the democratic state central committee have been subpoenaed by the plaintiffs in the roster case. Editor Nieman has several times protested that he had nothing to do with the deal, by which the state was to have been mulcted of $70,000, which sum was to have been divided among several democratic leaders and one or more democratic papers "for the good of the party." The impression has prevailed that the Journal was a party to the trade and would have been one of its beneficiaries had it not fallen through. As for Chairman Wall if he didn't know about the game especially when the take-off was so heavy as it was in this case, plainly he is over-rated as a ring master.

IS HARRISON TO MARRY?

Report That He and Mrs. Leland Stanford Are to Wed.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Feb. 6.—The Evening Democrat of this city had this announcement in its columns: "The Democrat has learned through a source which it believes to be reliable that ex-President Benjamin Harrison and Mrs. Stanford, widow of Leland Stanford, the California millionaire and United States senator will shortly be united in marriage at Palo Alto. The ex-President is now preparing to leave Indianapolis for the Stanford university to deliver a series of lectures and while there will be married to Mrs. Stanford, whose wealth is estimated at $200,000. Mrs. Stanford was a firm friend of Mrs. Harrison, and during the late republican administration the Harrisons and Stanfords formed a close and lasting friendship, and one which has terminated in the rumored marriage."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 6.—The story from Shelbyville of an engagement between Gen. Harrison and Mrs. Leland Stanford is pronounced groundless at the Harrison home, upon direct authority, but it has gained very general credence here.

IN LINE OF BATTLE.

De Gama Forms His Ships at Rio's Wharves—Fall to Get Aid.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, via Galveston, Texas, Feb. 6.—The rebel warships in the harbor here formed in line of battle yesterday morning in front of the city's wharves. This was done with a view of landing troops, for Admiral Saldanha Da Gama had received promises that the cavalry in Rio and others of Peixoto's troops would revolt, join his forces, and make a landing possible. He was doomed to disappointment, however, as no revolt occurred. He has asked recognition as belligerents for his followers from England, Italy, France and Germany.

Russo-German Treaty.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Count von Caprivi's parliamentary dinner, which precludes the final struggle over the Russian commercial treaty, was held last evening at the chancellery's place, 77 Wilhelmstrasse. Emperor William was present and talked almost constantly with other guests. In conversing with several deputies the emperor advocated strongly the passing of the Russian commercial treaty, and emphasized that the rejection of the treaty would have disagreeable political consequences for Germany.

Urges That Explosives Be Used.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—At a meeting of the unemployed held at Tower Hill the socialist leader Williams announced that a demonstration would be made in Trafalgar Square Saturday. He said a piece of explosive the size of a penny, which could be carried in the pocket, would remove two lines of police. Williams further said that if the foreign anarchists reinforced the unemployed there would be warm work for the police.

After Jenkins in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An echo of the recent act of Judge Jenkins' court in relation to the Northern Pacific railroad strikers was heard in the senate yesterday when Mr. Allen introduced a bill having for its purpose the "prevention of the abuse of the writ of injunction." The bill is short and provides that it shall be unlawful for any court of the United States or judge thereof to issue a writ of injunction, mandate, or restraining order against any labor organization, its officers, or members in any manner affecting their full freedom to peacefully and quietly quit the service of any person or corporation at any time they may see proper to do so.

Our Fighting Strength.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Secretary Lamont has sent to the house a report showing that about 8,223,997 men are available for military duty.

HART FOUND GUILTY.

Rockford Jury Sentences the Murderer to Death.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 6.—The jury in the Hart murder trial retired at 9:40 o'clock yesterday and after being out one hour and twenty minutes brought in a verdict finding the defendant guilty and fixing his punishment at death. One ballot was all that was taken. Hart received the verdict coolly and made no demonstration. Public sentiment approves the verdict.

The crime for which Hart was tried was the murder of his two sisters, Mary and Nellie, on the afternoon of Sept. 3 last. His act was undoubtedly the result of trouble in the family over the division of the estate left by John Hart, the father of the defendant, who committed suicide two years ago, leaving much valuable property. The family consisted of Mrs. Hart, two daughters and six sons. John, who was the oldest boy, wanted the estate divided, while the mother and sisters would not consent to break up the homestead. Up to the time of the double murder the counsel of Mrs. Hart and her daughters prevailed, and the family lived together on the farm, which prospered under the management of the boys. The day of the tragedy John was at home alone with his mother and sisters. During the afternoon Mrs. Hart left the house for a short time. It was during her absence that Hart attacked the two girls, killing Mary instantly and fatally injuring Nellie. She died the following day, but made an ante-mortem statement fixing the crime upon her brother, John Hart.

NORTHERN PACIFIC CASE.

Receivers File a Voluminous Reply to Charges at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—The case of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad against Receivers Oakes, Payne and Rouse, and in which their removal is asked, is on the docket of the United States court, presided over by Judge Jenkins, yesterday. The road is represented by Silas W. Pettitt of Philadelphia and John F. Harper of this city and the receivers of the road have retained Senator Spooner of Madison, W. J. Curtis of New York and George P. Miller of this city.

After listening all day to arguments Judge Jenkins said he was not sufficiently informed from the arguments to decide the necessity for the reference. He directed Attorney Pettitt to prepare a statement of questions of fact to be presented to the court to-day, when the matter will come up for argument. If it is denied the arguments will begin immediately on the petition for the removal of the receivers. The arguments will, it is expected, occupy several days.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN LABOR CIRCLES.JUDGE DUNDY'S FAMOUS OR-DER MODIFIED.

The Judge Puts a New Reading on the Injunction—Bad Outlook On Several of the Western Roads—Arranging St. Louis Brewery Troubles More Satisfactorily.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 6.—Judge Dundy, who issued the injunction forbidding the Northern Pacific employees to strike, now says that there was nothing in the order to prevent the men from holding their meetings and striking if they wanted to. The only restraint put on the employees, he said, was that they are held back from injuring the property of the receivers. He reiterated that the order to reduce the salaries of Union Pacific men did not mean that the men should not hold meetings or strike.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 6.—General Attorney Cotton of the Union Pacific yesterday filed a petition of the receivers ordering a reduction and restraining the employees from striking. This is the same as the petition granted by Judge Dundy at Omaha.

OUTLOOK ON WESTERN ROADS.

Strike Possible on Nearly All Transcontinental Lines.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 6.—The western operating departments of all the transcontinental railroad lines are looking forward to a general strike, with the exception of the Southern Pacific, if the Northern Pacific does not abrogate the schedule which went into effect on that system Jan. 1. This schedule ignores organized labor and proposes that the company shall deal with the men as individuals. It is said that all the roads interested are ready for a strike. The Great Northern, pending a settlement of anticipated troubles, refuses to accept perishable goods.

A Contractor's Advice.
Dullman's German Medicine Co. Gentlemen take great pleasure in testifying in behalf of Dullman's German Blood, Liver, and Kidney Cure. I can safely say that I have taken such medicine as that to cleanse my stomach and kidneys. I was suffering for years with biliousness, indigestion and loss of appetite.
I took one bottle of it and I feel more than six months' other treatment, and I feel it my duty to testify in its behalf, so others may be truly cured.

Yours truly, Mrs. McDonald, Milana, Mich.
Forsale by Palmer & Stevens.

A Valuable Addition to the ordinary list is Borden's Peerless Brand Evaporated Cream, an absolutely pure, unsweetened condensed milk so carefully prepared that it keeps indefinitely and is always available for every recipe calling for milk or cream.

Catarrh In The Head.
Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect and permanent cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh.
Catarrh oftentimes leads to consumption.
Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before it is too late.

You will be pleased with the many and lasting effects of the Japanese Liver Pellets. Try them. Sold at

BOWER CITY MIDWAY WAS JAMMED FULL.

LIGHT INFANTRY BOYS MAKE A GREAT HIT.

Armory Crowded and all the Nations of the Earth Took a Hand in the Dance—A Turk, a South Sea Islander and an Alligator Took the Prizes.

The real Plaisance on Chicago day wasn't crowded any worse than the Light Infantry Midway last night.
All the national freaks were present.
Samoans in fire-sale underwear and russet shoes polished flourished the familiar war clubs. Dark-skinned natives of Dahomy whooped and hollered in their native tongue.

Turks teetered and tossed in trying to steer baggy trousers about the hall. The Columbian guard was on hand and so was the Javanese monkey. A Ferris wheel, nine feet high, made frequent trips in charge of its builder, Major J. H. Cullen. One hundred couples masked, while those who stood around and watched made the crowd the largest that has attended a Janesville masquerade in four years. These legends plastered the wall at the head of the second flight of stairs:

"Please wipe your feet and change your face."
"Sandwiches $2.00.
Got the price?"
"No small-pox here."
"Look out for pickpockets."
"Main exit. Headquarters of the Sons of Rest."
"Don't fail to see the balloon. It sings Daisy Bell and then goes up."

Over the main entrance to the armory was a sign that read "Illinois Central Railroad Station," and over the entrance to the ladies' reception room,
"Forty Beauties from Forty Nations." The tank of "Sterilized Water" labelled "McMoney's Fountain." Around the walls were these legends:
"Hoola-Hoola in the Java Village."
"Bully for Columbus." He Raised a Beard and Discovered Plymouth Rock."
Others met the eye at every turn.

Prizes were awarded to the maskers at 11:30. They were:
Best midway male
character, Michael Conway, Turk, $2.00.
Best midway lady,
Miss Bonnie Murphy,
South Sea Islander,
$2.00. Best animal character, Chris Burbeck, alligator, $2.00. Beloit took away no prizes although it was well represented by a party headed by Captain T. J. Rogers. The Light Infantry made a handsome profit from the affair.

The Advertising
Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason because it is true; it always appeals to the sober common sense of thinking people because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which,
in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

less room than almost any other, is one of the most important departments in a first-class dry goods fresh and well assorted. The large business done in this department is because only reliable makes are kept, which fact is well known among the women folk.

ABOUT 200 PUPILS NOT VACCINATED.

THEY ARE SENT HOME FOR CERTIFICATES.

Superintendent Mayne Receives Orders to Admit No Children Whose Arms Do Not Show the Protecting Scar—Assistant Teacher For the High School If Necessary.

Nearly two hundred children were sent home from school to-day to be vaccinated. There was no objection except where scars were shown dating back four or five years. Superintendent Mayne said these would be sufficient if accompanied by a doctor's certificate stating that the child was protected.

Forty-five or fifty pupils from the High school, fifty from the Washington school, three from the Lincoln, twenty from the Douglas, sixty from the Adams, and a scattering few from the other schools left their classes at 9 o'clock and headed for doctors' offices. To-morrow the interruption will be over. The enforcement of the vaccination rule is by order of the board of health, the superintendent of schools being subject to a $25 fine if he fails to comply. The school board considered the matter last night and decided to act at once. In the way of general business bills amounting to $800 were audited and the committee on teachers was authorized to procure an assistant teacher in the High school if in their judgment such assistance was necessary. This course was deemed expedient, as it would give the superintendent more time to supervise work in the several buildings.

The Bridge Broken.

The bridge which has held Rosenfeld, the clothier, has broken and he is in the river, as it were. He is compelled to do something. He cannot afford to sit still and let the business go elsewhere, so he has decided to bring it here. On the eighth page of this issue will be found a large announcement of his which fully explains his circumstances. Are you willing to help him out? Are you willing to help yourselves? During the next 30 days there will be the greatest farore created in the clothing business ever known in Janesville. Rosenfeld must have money, he is compelled to raise $10,000, and will sacrifice his goods to do it. Don't buy a dollar's worth of clothing until you have seen what he has to offer, as he will discount any price named by any other clothing merchant in the city. This great sale commences tomorrow, February 7, and lasts until March 10. There is but one place where you can get clothing at the prices named on our eighth page, and that is at Rosenfeld's on the bridge.

HIMSELF.

The Man Convicted of Killing Mrs. Stone Makes a Queer Declaration to the Officers Who Took Him to Madison—First Murderer in the New Jail.

"I do not blame the jury for their verdict," said Matthew R. Ashton to Sheriff Bear and Deputy Nelson on the way to Madison. "I do not know but what, if I had been on the jury myself I would have done the same thing," he continued. "The evidence was against me from the start."

The sheriff looked at his prisoner in open-eyed wonder, but Ashton volunteered no more information.

"Ashton is the queerest combination I ever met," said the sheriff this noon. "I never saw anything like him."

Ashton is now in the new Dane county jail, he being the first murderer to be confined there. He holds himself in complete composure, but declines to converse with any one whom he suspects are intending to interview him.

Cromwell and the Specter.

The story of the "White Lady" that periodically visits the German royal family, and of the "Little Red Man" that frequently paid his respects to the great Napoleon, are tolerably well known, especially that of the former. But few, perhaps, are familiar with the story of Cromwell's "Giant Specter." It appeared to him one night when he was wide awake and quietly resting on his couch. In appearance the apparition was a woman of gigantic proportions. Approaching him, she announced in tones like thunder: "Within the year you, my son, will be recognized as the greatest man in Britain."

THE CITY TO BE SUED AGAIN

Mrs. Immogene Champion Wants Damages for Falling on a Bad Walk.

Janesville tax payers can now get ready to go down in their pockets another $5,000 worth. Mrs. Immogene Champion is to sue the city for damages and like as not she'll recover. Mrs. Champion fell on the sidewalk on the south side of Center street between Academy and Locust streets, at which point she alleges the sidewalk was in a dangerous condition. There was an abrupt difference in the height of the walk, her notice served on City Clerk Bates says and with no slanting or inclined walk connecting the different heights and with nothing to indicate said descent, so that a person stepping off unexpectedly from the higher to the lower walk, or stepping partially off from the higher walk would be thrown headlong. The boards in the lower walk at this point were in a slanting direction and were loose and not fastened in a safe and proper manner. No stated sum is claimed. Fethers, Jeffris & Fifield are Mrs. Champion's attorneys.

SEVEN ORFORD FOLK ON THE HOT IRON.

FIVE MEN AND TWO WOMEN

Seven Orfordville residents appeared in municipal court this morning, charged with selling liquors without a license. W. J. Noonan, Mary Noonan, J. F. Ellis, John Gansel, Charles Rossiter and Ellen Shafer all entered a plea of "not guilty," and February 8 and 9 was set for hearing testimony. AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

A Race for Life Out of a Fast Spreading Forest Fire.

The most exciting experience I ever had was in a forest fire near Manistec, Mich. I had visited a small lumber camp and retired to rest in one of the bunks provided for the choppers. I was awakened by a strong light from the north, and going outside of the wooden shanty it seemed to me that the entire world was on fire. It cracked and snapped, danced and jumped as if the demon of fire was holding a high carnival and celebrating the end of the world. From every side could be heard sounds like the firing of cannon and the shrieks of dying human beings. It was the falling of the boughs and the sighing of the wind, but I never heard so horrible a sound, nor witnessed so weird and terrible a sight.

Hastily awakening the other men in the camp I mounted a horse and fled from the flames. But the horse could not keep pace with the progress of the fire. The lurid heavens looked as though they were at molten heat; the air was stifling; the smoke almost suffocated me, while falling leaves and boughs burned my horse, and the sickening odor of burning flesh added to the horror. Within two or three hours I was in an opening, where I was no longer in danger, but my horse was badly injured, while my clothing was full of holes where embers had struck me. I will take my chances with cyclones or earthquakes, but not with a burning forest again.

MASON AND SEA COOK.

A Full-Blooded Apache Who Has Traveled Far and Learned Much.

Since the days of William Kidd, the talented but unfortunate buccaner of the Spanish main, there has been a halo of romance over the head of sea cooks. They have been the heroes and villains of prodigious tales, and even their sons have been endowed with peculiar attributes. Not one, however, is himself more of a unique specimen than the cook of the British ship John Cook, which recently arrived at San Diego, Cal., after a long and dangerous voyage from Cardiff. This cook is a full-blooded Apache Indian, born in the White mountains of Arizona. His people, the terrible White mountain and Tonto Apaches, have caused no end of trouble to the troops and settlers in Arizona. This man was named Tumashaney (Silver River) and was taken when still a child to Mexico, where he was raised. He has followed the sea for the greater part of his life, and has visited every part of the globe, learning several languages, including English, and becoming some years ago a member of the masonic fraternity. In civilization he is known as John Levin. He is quite dark, with the Indian physiognomy, and although 60 years of age, appears hardly in middle life. He has a Mexican wife and family living on the peninsula of Lower California, and says this is his last voyage.

Origin of an Old Saying.

The question is often asked as to the origin of the oft-used phrase, "Dead as a door nail," but is not always answered readily. The following explanation recently appeared in the Chicago Journal of Commerce. "The door nail in earlier times was the plate on the door upon which the old-fashioned knocker struck to arouse the inmates of the house. As the plate or nail was struck many more times than any other nail, it was assumed to be deader than other nails. Hence the phrase, 'dead as a door nail.'"

When War Is Declared

Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, Hostetter's stomach balm, dispels the rebellious organ thoroughly. Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it, for want of the power to digest, decomposes and acidifies, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain. Besides a multitude of symptoms both changeable and perplexing. But peace soon reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid discomposure of mind and even sleeplessness and hypochondria in chronic cases. To the complete dismissal of these the balm is fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

In Childhood's Happy Days.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by Stearns & Baker, Druggists.
